Nomination Committee Terms of Reference

Membership

1. The committee and its chairman shall be appointed by the board. The committee shall consist of a majority of the independent non-executive directors, together with the chairman of the company, it being recognised that current practice is that all independent non-executive directors are appointed to the committee. A quorum shall be three including the chairman.

2. Appointments to the committee shall, unless otherwise agreed by the board, be co-terminus with their respective terms of appointment as a director on the board, provided that the member still meets the criteria for membership of the committee.

3. The board shall appoint the chair of the committee, who shall either be the chair of the board or an independent non-executive director with recent and relevant experience. In the absence of the committee chair or an appointed deputy, the remaining members present at the meeting shall elect one of themselves to chair the meeting from those who would qualify under these terms of reference to be appoint to that position by the board. The chair of the committee shall not chair the committee when it is dealing with the appointment of his/her successor. The board has elected the chairman of the board to be chair of the committee until further notice and the senior independent director shall be chairman of the committee when it is dealing with the matter of succession to the chairmanship.

4. The chairman of the committee shall review membership of the committee annually, as part of the annual performance evaluation of the committee.

Attendance at meetings

5. The CEO, the chief human resources officer and other individuals shall attend meetings if invited by the committee.

6. The company secretary or the deputy company secretary shall be secretary of the committee.

Frequency of meetings

7. Meetings shall be held not less than twice per year.

Notice of meetings

8. The agenda and copies of all committee papers shall be sent to all members of the committee, and to other attendees as appropriate, normally at least five working days before the meeting.

Authority

9. The committee is authorised by the board to:
   (a) carry out all duties set out in these terms of reference;
   (b) seek any information it requires from any employee of the company in order to perform its duties;
   (c) obtain, at the company’s expense, outside legal or other professional advice in connection with its duties; and such advisors may attend meetings as necessary;
   (d) incur any expenditure it considers appropriate in connection with the above (the company to make available the necessary funds); and
   (e) delegate its powers in relation to particular matters to a sub-committee, determine its membership, terms of reference and the extent of its delegated powers.

Responsibilities

10. The responsibilities of the committee shall be to:
(a) ensure that there is a formal, rigorous and transparent procedure for appointments to the board;

(b) be responsible for identifying and nominating for the approval of the board, candidates to fill board vacancies as and when they arise and consider proposals for the reappointment or promotion of directors and any proposal for their dismissal, retirement, non-re-appointment or any substantial change in their duties or responsibilities or the term of their appointment;

(c) regularly review the structure, size and composition (including the skills, knowledge, independence, experience and diversity) of the board and its committees, taking account of the company’s strategic priorities and the matters affecting the company in paragraph 10(f), and make recommendations to the board with regard to any changes;

(d) give detailed consideration to succession planning for directors and for members of the executive committee of the company (senior management) based on merit and objective criteria in the course of its work, taking into account the challenges and opportunities facing the company, and what skills and expertise are therefore needed on the board in the future, the length of service of the board as a whole and the need for its membership to be regularly refreshed;

(e) before making an appointment, evaluate the balance of skills, knowledge and experience on the board and the future challenges affecting the company, and, in the light of this evaluation, prepare a description of the role and capabilities required for a particular appointment and set the process to identify and interview suitable candidates. In identifying suitable candidates, the committee shall:

(i) use such methods as it deems appropriate, including the use of open advertising or the services of external advertisers to facilitate the search;

(ii) consider candidates from diverse backgrounds; and

(iii) consider candidates on merit, against objective criteria and with due regard for promoting the benefits of diversity on the board, including of gender, social and ethnic backgrounds, and cognitive and personal strengths, taking care that appointees have enough time available to devote to the position;

(f) keep under review the leadership needs of the organisation, both executive and non-executive, with a view to ensuring the continued ability of the organisation to compete effectively in the marketplace and keep up to date and fully informed about the strategic and commercial issues and priorities and main trends and factors affecting the long-term success and future viability of the company and the market in which it operates;

(g) set measurable objectives for diversity and inclusion in relation to the board and senior management positions, including a regular refresh of its policy on diversity and inclusion on the board and in senior management and regularly review the gender balance of those in senior management and their direct reports to meet those objectives;

(h) for the appointment of the chairman, prepare a job specification, including the time commitment expected from them. A proposed chairman’s other significant commitments should be disclosed to the board before appointment and any changes to the chairman’s commitments should be reported to the board as they arise; and

(i) review on appointment and annually thereafter the time required from non-executive directors and the performance of the non-executive directors to assess whether they are spending enough time to fulfil their duties and keep under review the number of external appointments held by each director;

(j) work and liaise with other board committees, as appropriate, including the remuneration committee in respect of any remuneration package to be offered to any new appointee of the board;
(k) so far as is practicable, arrange for the chair of the board and as many of the directors as possible to have the opportunity to meet potential external appointees before their appointment is formally proposed at a board meeting and ensure that the proposed appointee discloses any other business interests that may result in a conflict of interest and to report on any future business interests that could result in a conflict of interest. The committee shall ensure that any possible conflict of interest issues in respect of external candidates are fully addressed and shall keep under review potential conflicts of interest of directors disclosed to the company and develop and appropriate process for managing such conflicts;

(l) ensure that on appointment to the board, non-executive directors receive a formal letter of appointment setting out clearly what is expected of them in terms of time commitment, committee service and involvement outside board meetings; and

(m) ensure that all new directors undertake an appropriate induction programme to ensure that they are fully informed about the company's main areas of business activity, including those involving financial risk, and the strategic priorities and commercial issues affecting the company and the markets in which it operates as well as their duties and responsibilities as a director. The committee shall also consider any training requirements for the board as a whole;

(n) assist the chairman of the board and the senior independent director with the implementation of an annual evaluation process to assess the overall and individual performance and effectiveness of the board and its committees, including consideration of balance of skills, experience, independence and knowledge of the company, its diversity, how the board works together as a unit, and other factors relevant to the board’s effectiveness;

(o) review the results of the board performance evaluation process that relate to the composition of the board, its diversity and how effectively the members of the board work together to achieve objectives;

(p) in conjunction with the human resources department, set diversity objectives and strategies for the company as a whole and monitor the impact and outcome of diversity initiatives.

11. The committee shall also make recommendations to the board concerning:

(a) the chair of the board, having assessed whether the present incumbent shall continue in post, taking into account the need for continuity versus freshness of approach;

(b) suitable candidates for the role of senior independent director;

(c) membership of the audit and remuneration committees, in consultation with the chairmen of those committees;

(d) formulating succession plans for both executive and non-executive directors and in particular for the key roles of chairman, CEO and CFO;

(e) the re-appointment of any non-executive director at the conclusion of their specified term of office, having given due regard to their performance and ability to continue to contribute to the board and the company’s long-term sustainable success, in light of the knowledge, skills and experience required and the length of service of the board as a whole and its membership being regularly refreshed;

(f) the re-election by shareholders of any director under the ‘retirement by rotation’ provisions in the company's articles of association, having regard to their performance and commitment to the role and their contribution to the company's long-term sustainable success;

(g) any matters relating to the continuation in office of any director at any time; and

(h) the appointment of any director to executive or other office other than to the positions of chairman and CEO, the recommendation for which would be considered at a meeting of the full board, and
(i) any other matter that the board deems appropriate.

Reporting Procedures

12. The committee chair shall report formally to the board on all significant matters considered by the committee and how the committee has discharged its duties and responsibilities and shall, if requested by any member of the committee or of the board, report to the board on any other specific matter considered by the committee at any meeting. The secretary shall circulate the minutes of meetings of the committee to all members of the board except where the committee determines it to be inappropriate to do so for reasons of confidentiality.

13. The committee shall produce a report to be included in the company’s annual general report including any matters required by the Disclosure Guidance and Transparency Rules published by the Financial Conduct Authority and describing its work, including:

   (a) its activities, the membership of the committee, number of meetings and attendance over the course of the year;

   (b) the process used in relation to appointments, its approach to succession planning and how both support developing a diverse pipeline;

   (c) identifying in the annual report any external search consultancy that has been engaged, together with a statement about any other connection it has with the Company or individual directors;

   (d) how the board evaluation has been conducted, the nature and extent of an external evaluator’s contact with the board and individual directors, the outcomes and actions taken, and its influence on board composition; and

   (e) identifying in the annual report any external evaluator together with a statement about any other connection it has with the Company or individual directors.

14. The report referred to in paragraph 10 shall include a description of the board’s policy on diversity and inclusion, its objectives and linkage to company strategy, how it has been implemented and progress on achieving the objectives; and the gender balance of those in the senior management and their direct reports.

15. The committee shall ensure that, through the chair of the board, the company maintains contact and the committee chair seeks engagement, as required, with the company’s major shareholders on significant matters related to the committee’s areas of responsibility. The chairman of the committee shall attend the AGM prepared to respond to any questions which may be raised by shareholders on matters within the committee’s area of responsibility.

Conflicts of interest

16. The secretary of the committee shall ascertain, at the beginning of each meeting, the existence of any conflicts of interest and minute them accordingly.

General matters

17. The committee shall:

   (a) have access to sufficient resources to carry out its duties, including access to the company secretary and deputy company secretary for assistance as required;

   (b) be provided with appropriate and timely training, both in the form of an induction programme for new members and on an ongoing basis for all members;

   (c) give consideration to all relevant laws and regulations, in particular, the directors’ duties in the Company Act 2006, the provisions of the Code and the requirements of the UK Listing Authority’s Listing, Prospectus and Disclosure and Transparency Rules and any other applicable rules, as appropriate; and
(d) arrange for periodic reviews of its own performance and shall regularly review its constitution and terms of reference in the context of the emerging governance and regulatory landscape to ensure it is operating at maximum effectiveness and recommend any changes necessary for board approval.
